From the Pastor

The sadness of death should give way in our liturgy to the promise of resurrected life. Our celebration of a person's life should reflect our conviction that in Jesus Christ we have life beyond life.

The Church of the Holy Spirit is pleased to offer its parishioners and friends the complete rites as a means of consolation for the living and grace-filled assistance for the deceased. These rites, which include a funeral Mass and the possibility of a vigil in the church or funeral home, are most properly celebrated in the parish church of the deceased, in the presence of their faith community.

Reflecting on death and funeral arrangements is a difficult task for many, but also a necessary one. Reflecting on and preparing for one's own death, or that of someone we know, is a part of living. As Christians and Catholics, we know that death is not our enemy, but our passage to the next life that God is preparing for us.

The first step to take when planning a funeral liturgy is to consult with our Director of Worship, who is here to assist you with any questions or concerns you may have.

Whether you are pre-planning a funeral liturgy for yourself, or you have suffered the loss of a loved one, it is our pleasure to assist you during your time of need.

Types of Services

The most common form of Catholic funeral has the following elements:

- ❖ Vigil service with either the body or ashes present.
- ❖ Funeral Mass or service with either the body or ashes present.
- ❖ Graveside service with burial of the body or ashes.

Another option is a memorial Mass or service with no remains present. These can take place close to the time of death or at some convenient time for the gathering of friends and family.

Types of Vigil Services

- ❖ Prayer service [suitable for congregations of mixed faiths].
- ❖ Prayer service with rosary – see below [suitable for congregations of mixed faiths].
- ❖ Rosary alone – usually five decades of the rosary.
[Suitable where most of the congregation are Catholic.]

The vigil service may be held at the funeral home, the church or at a private home. Vigils may be led by a priest, deacon or commissioned lay minister.

The vigil is the best time to have memorials, eulogies, as well as secular music and readings, such as poems.

Outline of Vigil Service with Rosary

Introductory Rites:	Includes prayers and an introduction from the priest or deacon.
Meditations:	Commonly include a short reading from scripture to illustrate a decade of the rosary followed by the praying of that decade.
Homily/Reflections:	Here the priest/deacon will preach a suitable homily based on the life of the deceased in relation to the gospel. Reflections, other readings and eulogies may follow.
Concluding Prayers:	Prayers conclude the vigil service.

Catholic Church View on Cremation

In April 1997, the Congregation for Divine Worship and the Discipline of the Sacraments granted an indult for the United States to allow the diocesan bishop to permit the presence of the cremated remains of a body at a Funeral Mass. Later that year, the Congregation confirmed the special texts and ritual directives, which were then published as an appendix to the Order of Christian Funerals. Frequently the Secretariat of Divine Worship receives requests for clarification or suggestions for best practices regarding the presence of cremated remains and funerals and their appropriate final disposition or committal.

The practice of cremation has grown and become more commonplace in the United States, and it is often presented as a more affordable alternative to traditional burial. What is often overlooked is the Church's teaching regarding the respect and honor due to the human body. The Order of Christian Funerals' Appendix on Cremation states: "Although cremation is now permitted by the Church, it does not enjoy the same value as burial of the body. The Church clearly prefers and urges that the body of the deceased be present for the funeral rites, since the presence of the human body better expresses the values which the Church affirms in those rites" [No. 413].

Ideally, if a family chooses cremation, the cremation would take place at some time after the Funeral Mass, so that there can be an opportunity for the Vigil for the Deceased in the presence of the body [during "visitation" or "viewing" at a church or funeral home]. This allows for the appropriate reverence for the sacredness of the body at the Funeral Mass: sprinkling with holy water, the placing of the pall, and honoring it with incense. The Rite of Committal then takes place after cremation. Funeral homes offer several options in this case. One is the use of "cremation caskets," which is essentially a rental casket with a cardboard liner that is cremated with the body. Another is a complete casket that is cremated [this casket contains minimal amounts of non-combustible material such as metal handles or latches].

When cremation takes place before the Funeral Mass, and the diocesan bishop permits the presence of cremated remains at the Funeral Mass, the Appendix provides adapted texts for the Sprinkling with Holy Water, the Dismissal for use at the Funeral Mass [or the Funeral Liturgy outside Mass], and the Committal of Cremated Remains. The introduction provides further specific details about how the funeral rites are adapted. In all, the rite notes:

The cremated remains of a body should be treated with the same respect given to the human body from which they come. This includes the use of a worthy vessel to contain the ashes, the manner in which they are carried, and the care and attention to appropriate placement and transport, and the final disposition. The cremated remains should be buried in a grave or entombed in a mausoleum or columbarium. The practice of scattering cremated remains on the sea, from the air, or on the ground, or keeping cremated remains on the home of a relative or friend of the deceased are not the reverent disposition that the Church requires. [No. 417]

Types of Funeral Mass

❖ Funeral Mass with body or ashes present.

The funeral Mass is held at the church; the remains are treated with great respect [including ashes]. At the entrance to the church the body is sprinkled with holy water and covered with a pall, a reminder of baptism. A bible and a crucifix, symbols of Christian faith, may also be placed on the casket.

An urn of ashes may be carried in procession or placed on a table at the front of the church before the service begins.

A flag may be placed on the casket after the Mass has concluded.

❖ Memorial Mass [no remains present]

The memorial Mass is held in church just like a funeral Mass, but no remains are present. The opening of Mass is like a more usual Mass with an opening song, greeting and penitential rite.

Readings at Mass

We encourage family members and friends to take part in the Liturgy of the Word by reading the First Reading and Second Reading. Copies of the readings will be provided for the Mass. Readings may also be included in a vigil service.

Other Considerations

❖ Tributes and Eulogies:

Normally individual tributes should be reserved for the vigil service the afternoon or evening before the day of the Funeral Mass or for a reception following. The homily at Mass is when the priest will preach on the gospel you have chosen and make specific references to the deceased. One short tribute may be read at Mass [no more than 2 or 3 minutes]. This is best read from a script, and it is very helpful if a copy of this is available to the priest before the Mass.

❖ Displays and Photographs:

We welcome displays of photographs and memorabilia at the entrance to the Church. A single framed portrait may be displayed on an easel near the altar, all others are to be placed in the foyer of the church.

❖ Financial Considerations:

Although there is no fee for a funeral Mass, the recommended donation for use of the church is $150⁰⁰. No one will be denied the services of the Church for financial reasons. These donations/stipends may be paid through the funeral home or by a family member and are usually taken care of the prior to the funeral liturgy.

❖ Flowers:

We welcome flowers as part of the funeral celebration – in moderation – they may be placed in the foyer of the church. During Lent we do not use flowers on the altar, but they can be displayed around the casket in the foyer of the church.

❖ Memorial Gifts:

You may wish to encourage friends and family to make Memorial Gifts to the Church of the Holy Spirit or Holy Spirit School. These gifts are received in the name of the one who has died, and the immediate family is notified. Memorial gifts may be used for the general needs of the church, or may be designated for a specific purpose. Please contact our Director of Finance, who will be more than glad to assist you.

Bereavement Ministry

We have a ministry dedicated to providing companionship to you during this sad time. This group is comprised of those who have also experienced the loss of a loved one and are available to help understand and share the pain you are suffering. We also have a Bereavement Support Group which meets regularly. If you want more information about our Bereavement Ministry or Support Group, please contact our Marriage & Family Life Coordinator, Rose Cruz at [210] 341-1395.

Music

Music is an important part of ritual, and we encourage families to make full use of the Church's rich tradition and the parish's musical resources.

❖ Music before & after the Mass:

Instrumental music can provide a quiet and prayerful atmosphere at the beginning of the service, when mourners are likely to be upset and in need of a calming atmosphere. At the end of the Mass, when the cortège leaves the church for the final resting place, it is good to have some uplifting and reassuring music.

❖ Hymns and Psalms:

During a liturgy, it is good to allow everyone present to participate in the singing. The hymns, psalms and spiritual songs that are chosen need to be familiar to a good number of the congregation so that the singing is strong. Our hymnals contain appropriate musical selections from which you may wish to choose.

❖ Recorded Music

We recognize the importance of certain recorded songs. Recorded music may be proper at a vigil service or at a reception, however, not during Mass.

Below is a list of approved musicians, knowledgeable in the use of our pipe organ and piano; they are able to handle all of your musical needs. If needed, they can also recommend vocal and additional instrumental soloists. Remuneration [stipend] should be discussed directly with the selected musician.

Josh Frilling	Accompanist	[937] 622-0118
Martha Klein	Accompanist	[210] 355-1308
Letty Spain	Accompanist & Vocalist	[210] 394-8461
Anthony Wittig	Accompanist & Vocalist	[210] 380-0696
Kristin Gaus	Vocalist	[228] 365-6834
Heather Kelley	Vocalist	[210] 365-7584

"Music is integral to the Funeral rites. It allows the community to express convictions and feelings that word alone may fail to convey. It has the power to console and uplift the mourners and to strengthen the unity of the assembly in faith and love. The texts of the songs chosen for a particular celebration should express the paschal mystery of the Lord's suffering, death, and triumph over death and should be related to the readings from Scripture." Thus, while Funeral music may express "convictions and feelings," its subject must always be the paschal mystery and it must be related to the readings from Scripture. Rather than adopting popular secular songs which are inappropriate to a liturgical setting, we should seek out good liturgical music on a paschal theme which can "support, console, and uplift participants and help to create in them a spirit of hope in Christ's victory over death and in the Christian's share in that victory." [Order of Christian Funerals, number 31]

Music for Funeral & Memorial Masses

❖ Mariachis & Bag Pipes

Mariachi and Bag Pipes are sometimes culturally important. We welcome their use on the steps of the church before or after a service or to lead a procession in/out of church. We do not allow them to be played during a Mass or Service.

❖ To assist you with planning, we have included a listing of the most commonly requested hymns:
